Director: Gary Robertson

Musical Director: Russell Taylor

Choreographer: Margaret Taylor

Producer: Keith Fox

This amateur production is presented by arrangement with JOSEF WEINBERGER LTD.
on behalf of MUSIC THEATRE INTERNATIONAL of NEW YORK

From the Director

Well Hi Everyone!

I first saw Sister Act with a number of our current cast on a "day out" when it first opened in London with Sheila Hancock as the Mother Superior in 2009. Whilst the songs are not the ones we all love and know from the film, they certainly have become some of my favourites, from the first time I saw the show, right through rehearsals and into the performances and I must say Barnstormers have certainly learned to do them justice.

As soon as we managed to get the licence we jumped at the opportunity of bringing it to Patcham Methodist Church. This show has been a long time coming, I hope you will all agree, as the cast and I do – It is well worth the wait.

The story is "pretty well" the same as the film by the same name; Deloris is a wanna-be "show girl" and girlfriend of a gangster club owner (Curtis). She sees Curtis and his thugs commit a murder. She then runs (with them chasing her until the end of the show) to the Police, where she finds an old school buddy (Eddie) is now a policeman. Eddie then hides her in a convent

Musical Director's notes 🎵 🎵 🎵

Back in 2009, Barnstormers took the opportunity to see Sister Act in the West End, soon after it opened. Since then we've been bursting out of our habits waiting for it to be available for us to perform. After trying, and failing, to get the rights in 2014, we were finally lucky enough to secure the rights on our 2nd application. As it happens, we are extremely honoured to be one of the last groups in the UK to have been selected to perform Sister Act while the show is still on a restricted amateur licence - it goes onto general amateur release in late spring 2018.

Set in the 1970s, the show's score is full of disco grooves and is liberally sprinkled with gratuitous, light-hearted flashbacks to the disco genre including well-known riffs from Kool and The Gang, Barry White, and The Weather Girls. But that doesn't stop Sister Act being a musical theatre gem at the same time. Alan Menken's challenging score keeps the harmonies rich and multi-layered throughout - many of the songs have at least 4-part harmony, and you'll hear the cast go into 8-part harmony on several occasions (hopefully!). And for those of you who fancy a challenge, listen out for the musical references to two of Menken's other classic shows Beauty And The Beast and The Little Mermaid hidden within Sister Act...

Rehearsing the show has been a musical, heavenly joy, and all those involved have thrown themselves into the chal-

“full of nuns” till she can go to court. The story then unfolds and shows how Deloris changes a few things with the Mother Superior and the nuns, makes friends and shows how they change her. It is a lovely story, full of wonderful songs, and chases. We have added our own dances and interpretation to bring it to life.

Being a director you would think was a simple task – sit in one of those comfy chairs with “Director” on the back with a silly hat – shout “action” and “cut” perhaps along the way explain what someone’s “motivation” is for this scene. Maybe yell at your assistant, demand coffee and have everyone running around at your “beck and call”! “Oh my” I think that is about as far away from the truth as it could possibly be! But I will say there is a lot of pleasure that comes from the cast “getting it right” and performing as you envisage it and it all coming together on the stage in front of you. The biggest advantage of being a director, as I have now directed six shows, was that there was really no problem to slip myself in a “cameo” role for this show. Makes me feel a bit like Quentin Tarantino, Stan Lee or Alfred Hitchcock.!

I hope you all enjoy the show ...

Gary Robertson, Director

Choreographer

So this is it. The big one. The show we have all been waiting for, for so long. And what a show it has turned out to be! Working with a cast that has remained as enthusiastic as day one all the way through rehearsals has been a great pleasure, and I am sure that you will see the results of that enthusiasm today. Unusually for a major show, there are very few actual dance breaks, so most of the action is accompanied to the amazing singing, which is an extra dimension for the cast, who have coped magnificently. Add on to that the difficulty for the nuns in movement with long heavy costumes, and you will appreciate that rehearsals have been quite challenging. My thanks as always go to all of the cast for their tolerance, patience and suggestions when my ideas prove to be unworkable.

We have all enjoyed getting involved with this amazing show with the bright, lively numbers and underlying message of understanding and acceptance. I hope you enjoy the show as much as we have.

Margaret Taylor, Choreographer

allenge with enthusiasm and good humour, the two essentials for any amateur production. In a show such as Sister Act there are no small roles - every cast member is vital - and that is no truer than in delivering the complex vocal arrangements. Thank you to the whole Company for making Sister Act come alive in such a nuntastic way. Bless you.
